STAGE PRACTICE FRAY

Richmond College Winx From Avintion Tenm. Composed Largely of Second-String Men.
Richmond College and the aviation squadron football aggregations engaged in a practice game at Boulevard Field yesterday afternoon, which resulted in a 7-to-6 victory for the Richmond players. The contest was not arranged until noon, and was purely a practice affair, Captain Kilburn, of the flyers, using almost entirely his second-string men, saving his regular players for the Thanksgiving contest with Virginia Christian College.
Richmond College scored in the third quarter on a forward pass and end run. Half a dozen of the college men were knocked out during the fray, while Tom Parry, the crack aviation squadron conter, sustained a sprained lack when tackled. He is being cared for at the military hospital, but is expected to be in shape for the Thanksgiving game at Boulevard Field.

CONTEST IS ARRANGED

OF THANKSGIVING GAME

Aviation Squadron, Composed of Men From Many States, to Play Virginia Christian College.

Virginia Christian College.

Crack players from a score of States throughout the nation, members of the aviation squadron eleven, will compete with the Virginia Christian College team of Lyncaburg on Boulevard Field Thanksgiving afternoon.

Negotiations between the two teams fixing the contest for Thanksgiving Day were completed Friday after it had been definitely learned that plans for the game between Virginia and Carolina elevens had falled to materialize. Both the Christian College and aviation squadron teams are rated among the fastest in Virginia, and when the whistle blows for the kick-off Thanksgiving afternoon it is believed a record-breaking crowd will be packing Boulevard Field stands, for the game will probably mark the last football contest between soldlers and civilians in Richmond, having somewhat the nature of a peace celebration.

TRAINING FOR MATCH

Smith and Jack Collins Will Meet

Zeke Smith, Richmond's leading wrestler, and Jack Collins, the Greek middleweight, are training for a match to be singed at the Central Athletic School, Third and Broad Streets, on the night of December 2. Both men are working hard, as evidenced by the fact that by mutual agreement the match has been postponed from the date originally fixed, November 25, Collins lost to Smith in a tussle several weeks ago after getting the first fall. Both Collins and Smith are championship seekers, and the elimination of either means quite a step for the winner in the way of match-getof either means quite a step for winner in the way of match-get-

Tech braced in the last period. Guyon and Flowers were clever at intercepting forward passes, which, in a measure, made up for their fumbling in the early part of the game. Several times Pitt was forced to kick when they were unable to make first down, but this availed the Southern team nothing, as Pitt invariably took the ball away from them again. Davies ran fifty-five yards for a touchdown in the final period, which ended the scoring. He missed goal. Summary and line-up:
